

✓ YOUNG LIFE ENDED

wo e- Leslie Rosenow, Aged 17, Died of er: Influenza.

n.. That the dread disease is not a ren- spector of persons or ages was again d- exemplified when word reached town Monday evening, announcing the death of Leslie Rosenow, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenow, who lives about nine miles southwest of Groton. The family had all been ill and were making rapid progress toward recovery when Leslie had a re-lapse which resulted in his death. In the death of the young man his family has sustained a great loss, and the community loses one who gave promise of future usefulness. He is survived by his grief-stricken parents, four brothers and sisters, and other relatives.

Funeral services were held at the home Thursday afternoon and the remains laid to rest in the Hanson cemetery. Dec. 26, 1918
